Ultimate End In View Is Monarchical Regime At Petrograd

(Reuter's Service)

Copenhagen, October 8.—According to a telegram from Mitau, Major Bischof, commanding the local "Iron Division" has issued a manifesto to his troops defying the Berlin Government and proclaiming his intention to join the Russians "To help them free their homeland from the Bolshevik scourge of humanity."

Noske Is Heard

Berlin, October 8.—Herr Noske, German Minister of Defense, announced in the National assembly today that Major Bischof's manifesto to the Baltic troops passed all bounds of insubordination and that he would be court martialled.

"Through With Germany"

London, October 10.—General von der Goltz interviewed by the correspondent of the Chicago Tribune at Mitau before his departure for Germany said that though he had been recalled the German troops remained or rather the Russian troops, for they had finished with the German Government and Germany where there were no work and no food for them. Formerly, he said, such men went to America, but now that that was impossible, they had come to the Baltic provinces.

A Berlin telegram to the Times states that Colonel Bermondt otherwise Prince Urustmeff, the Russo-German commanding the main German force in the Baltic Provinces, has been reinforced and has declared war on the Lettish Government, asserting that the latter wishes to conclude peace with the Bolsheviki.

According to the same correspondent the Freiheit says that the so-called West Russian Government promoted its first loan with a bogus banker in Berlin who disappeared. The security offered on the loan which amounted to fifteen millions sterling was the property of the new state which it was hoped to conquer.

Warning To Foch

London, October 9.—According to a Helsingfors telegram to the Times, General Vassilkovsky, who is noted as an opponent of Germany and was formerly commander of the Petrograd garrison writes:

"I have just returned from Reval. General von Der Goltz's troops are beginning a careful movement against Lettland and will shortly begin an offensive in the direction of Pskoff, overrun Esthonia and march on Petrograd for the purpose of installing German monarchical regime. Please warn Marshal Foch."

London, October 9.—Sir George Buchanan, former British Ambassador at Petrograd speaking in London yesterday said "if we allowed Germany to make Russia a German colony we should be confronted with a Germany far more powerful than she was before the war."

Message To Allied Mission

Copenhagen, October 9.—A Mitau telegram states that General von der Goltz has written to the Chief of the Allied Mission at Riga alleging that Lettish and Esthonian troops are massing in large numbers on the demarcation line and that he is unable to evacuate the German troops unless these forces are withdrawn.

Report To Paris

Paris, Oct. 10.—The French Mission to the Baltic States has transmitted to the Supreme Council a renewed refusal on the part of General von der Goltz to retire. The Council adopted Marshal Foch's note as regards evacuation of the Baltic Provinces, informing Germany that

Students Here Warn Big Department Stores Not To Sell Japanese Goods

Local Organisations Issue Ultimatum To Wing On And Sincere; More Students Jailed By Peking Authorities

Chinese student organisations of Shanghai yesterday issued warnings to the Wing On and Sincere department stores, demanding that the sale of Japanese goods cease. The letters were discussed at meetings of directors of both stores yesterday, after which the managers told a representative of THE CHINA PRESS that no Japanese goods were being purchased and none were on sale on the counters of the stores. "We are in sympathy with the students," they declared.

Manager K. Bew of Wing On's said, "We have not been buying Japanese goods since the boycott started last May and we have recalled our buyer, Mr. Lau Singchow, from Kobe. No Japanese goods are sold in the store." Mr. Bew said that a buyer had been sent to the United States and will later go to Europe. Mr. Lau is now in Shanghai and attended the conference of the Wing On Company directors yesterday afternoon.

Cancels All Orders

Mr. S. K. Loh, sub-manager of Sincere's, told the reporter that a telegram had been sent to the Kobe office of the firm on May 19. The wire read, "Cancel all orders and stop shipments."

"Stocks of Japanese goods purchased before the boycott are now in the godowns but none are on sale in the store, "Mr. Loh asserted. "We are awaiting telegraphic instructions from our head office in Hongkong to close the Kobe office which is now doing no business."

Replying to the students' warnings, both firms have invited deputations to inspect the stocks in the stores. They are thoroughly in sympathy with the aims of the student organisations, they said.

Demands made by Shanghai student organisations resulted from successful efforts made by similar bodies in the South to stop the sale of Japanese goods. When the demands were not met in Canton, the big department stores were deserted by their customers and the managers finally announced that no Japanese-made goods would be sold.

Student leaders said yesterday that the movement has effectually spread throughout the country and will result in keeping alive the agitation against importation of goods from Japan.

Students Recently Arrested Still In Jail In Peking

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, October 12.—The representatives of students and business men who were arrested on the Mid-Autumn Festival day are still in custody. It is believed that the Government is awaiting the issue of the Shanghai demonstrations before deciding what action to take towards the arrested men.

Peking, October 10.—It was reported last night that the students intended to distribute, bread to the poor today and to take advantage of that opportunity to deliver addresses to the people on political matters.

It appears, however, that the police sanctioned the work of charity, but firmly declined to allow lectures of any kind.

Parties of students accompanied carts filled with wheaten bread cooked by both foreign and Chinese methods which was given to all poor people who desired it.

As the bread was given out the students explained that they wished the poor people as well as the rich to feel that this was a national holiday. All the students asked was that the recipients should wish "Long life to China," and hearty expressions of "Wah Suey" were received.

LLOYD GEORGE SPEAKS ON NATIONALISATION

Government Has Decided That It Will Not Undertake State Management Of Mines

(Reuter's Service)

London, October 11.—Mr. Lloyd George, replying to a trade union deputation headed by Mr. Stuart Bunning Secretary of the Miners' Federation and including all the members of the Miners' Federation Executive and also Messrs. Smillie, Bowerman, Will Thorne and others, who advocated nationalisation of the mines, stated that he adhered to the policy announced in the House of Commons.

He delared that if the people were comvinced that the experiment should be tried they had the constitutional machinery to carry it out. The Government had definitely decided that it could not undertake a State management of the mines which would not save expense or increase output, he said. Therefore the Government abided by their other proposals, namely to buy out all owners of mining royalties, to nationalise coal deposits, to improve the conditions of life of the miner, and to give him an effective voice in conditions affecting his health, the safety of the mines and the management of the whole business.

There have been strong expressions of dissatisfaction at the Premier's reply and a great nationalisation propaganda is being planned.

An additional appropriation of fifteen million dollars for army aircraft construction has been unanimously recommended by the Senate Military Committee with a view to the establishment of air routes to Panama, Asia and Alaska.

The Aviation Section of the United States army plans to enter upon a three day test flight across Canada to Alaska and if this trial proves successful to continue the course to Asia where additional test flights are to be made for the determination and establishment of flying routes over that continent.

STREET CAR WORKERS IN OSAKA QUIT WORK

Strike Is Called Suddenly Following Series Of Secret Meetings Of Men

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Osaka, Oct. 13.—The growing labor unrest culminated this morning in a sudden strike of conductors and drivers of Osaka street cars. Out of 500 cars only about one percent are running.

The persistent rains and muddy roads make the strike particularly inconvenient for citizens who suddenly deprived of the means of traffic are forced to become pedestrians. The ricsha men are doing a prosperous trade.

It is understood that during the last few days the men have been holding secret meetings and arranging the strike for the purpose of demanding higher wages.

Get Big Opium Haul; Smugglers Escape

Customs Officer Seizes 300 Pounds When He Makes Chance Examination

Shortly after midnight yesterday morning a launch made its unobtrusive way to the customs Jetty. Not long afterwards a Chinese policeman, walking his beat, asked the laodah why he was there. "Waiting for the captain," was the reply that satisfied the policeman.

The constable was about to start on his way when an automobile drove up, a Chinese stepped out, told the loadah that the captain had decided not to come aboard for the night and wanted his luggage. The laodah complied with the request.

A Customs officer happened along and thought he would just glance through the bags. He found 300 pounds of opium valued at about $200 a pound and was so astonished that when he went to nab the men, they had started away in the launch.

Sixty thousand dollars worth of opium had been in a launch tied up at the Customs Jetty for nearly an hour.

Sudden Rouble Rise In Harbin Soon Over

Recent Advance Ascribed To Speculators; Situation Is Worse Than Ever

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Harbin, October 11.—The sudden rise in the value of the Siberian rouble lasted only two days. It was evidently the work of speculators. The financial situation here is at present worse than ever.

The market is easily affected by the slightest change in the military or political situation or by mere rumor and this has a disquieting effect on the population.

NEW JAPANESE LOAN NOT YET CONCLUDED

Advance Of $24,000,000 Is Not Made But Another Deal Of Ministry Is Reported

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, October 10.—The belief is stronger today that the proposed Nishihara group loan of $24,000,000 is not likely to be concluded and while the old Consortium will not advance the money required by China that an advance will be made by the new Consortium, in other words that America will participate in a loan to China of which an advance will be made before the final arrangements are completed.

Peking, October 12.—The Chen Pao learns from Japanese sources that the Finance Minister has contracted a loan of $5,000,000 from the Japanese Dockyard Company known as Sara-ling on the security of the first year National Bonds. The paper adds that the loan has been overpaid.

Air Mail Delivered For First Time To Steamship At Sea

Aeromarine flying-boat and pilot C.J. Zimmerman.

The first aerial mail delivery to a ship at sea was accomplished recently when an aeromarine flying boat dropped a sack of European mail on the deck of the White Star liner Adriatic when the liner was several hours out from New York. Piloted by C. J. Zimmerman the flying boat left with the mail and overtook the speedy Adriatic as she was passing out of Ambrose Channel. The mail sack was enclosed in a special waterproof bag. It is believed that the plan can be utilised to save fully eighteen hours to transatlantic liners, by sending out ship's papers after the vessel has sailed. The liners will be able to take on cargo up to the last moment before sailing and then receive the completed manifests by airplane at sea.

Japanese Delegates To U.S. Labor Meet Threatened By Mobs

Disapproval Of Throngs Made Evident On Occasion Of Their Departure

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Tokio, October 11.—There were remarkable scenes yesterday when the Japanese Labor Delegates to the forthcoming Labor Conference at Washington went on board the Fushimi Maru en route for America.

Mr. Kanada, President of Keio University, and Mr. Muto, another Government nominee, with their suites were seen off at the station by a number of prominent personages including Mr. Hara, the Premier; Baron Shibusawa, and others.

A crowd outside the enclosure showed signs of disapproval and had to be kept back by a strong force of police.

Mr. Masumoto, also a Government nominee, fearing that the hostility of the crowd might prevent his departure, boarded the steamer only after she had left the dock, when she was being searched for stowaways. Mr. Masumoto's fears were well-founded, because a body of determined men ransacked the ship before her departure determined to force Mr. Masumoto to return on shore.

It is pointed out that the Japanese Delegation is decidedly influenced against radical internationalisation of labor.

(Reuter's Service)

London, October 10.—It is understood that the situation at Fiume remains very unsatisfactory and involves grave possibilities of serious internal trouble in Italy as d'Announzio's forces refuse to leave and the army and navy decline to compel them.

It is reliably reported that the King of Italy has threatened to abdicate if the attitude of the army and navy does not change.

Fire In Chinese City Renders 500 Homeless

Between 60 And 75 Houses And Stores Destroyed Before Destructive Blaze Is Checked

Over 500 Chinese were rendered homeless by a spectacular fire that destroyed between 60 and 75 dwelling houses and small stores in the Chinese City just over the French Concession boundary early last evening. Starting in the Lu Kai Loong, an alley running North from the Industrial Bazaar and Roof Garden on Fu Yue Road, the blaze rapidly spread in all four directions, going through several fire walls before it was finally brought under control by the combined French and Chinese City departments.

Inefficiency and delay of the Chinese department allowed the fire to get a tremendous start and for more than ten minutes after the first piece of apparatus arrived but two streams of water with little pressure were directed at the blaze. Hose burst frequently and there was a lack of pressure. It was nearly an hour and a half before the fire was under control. Some 60 lines of hose were laid by the Chinese and French departments.

Thousands were attracted by the glare and the showers of sparks that were carried half-a-mile into Chinese territory. The district was thrown into panic by the rapidly-spreading blaze and residents of nearby streets and alleyways hurriedly vacated their premises while those further away moved furniture and personal property into the streets preparatory to a hurried removal.

Fire Spreads Rapidly

Originating in the ground floor of a small building which is a combined shop and dwelling, it spread rapidly to adjoining buildings. Then it jumped across the street and by the time the first two lines of hose were laid, six or eight houses were blazing.

The alley, Lu Kai Loong, is narrow and the buildings adjoin as is typical of the streets in the Chinese City. Firemen were stationed near the first fire wall to the South but this crumbled while the blaze was also working into houses and shops to the North, East, and West.

Falling roofs and fire walls made the work of the firemen dangerous and with hose bursting, few lines and low pressure, they were practically helpless before the blaze. The French Department laid several lines, firemen taking them through the alleys to the Hai Joh Pang, three blocks from Boulevard de Deux Republiques. The Chinese department worked in from Fu Yue Road.

The fire swept the area bounded by Hai Joh Pang on the North, Chang Sing Kai on the East, Lu Kai Loong on the West and within 100 feet from the Fu Yue Road. The last named street is well known to foreigners who have made trips to the Chinese City, as the Industrial Bazaar and Roof Garden, a big concrete building of six stories, is on the corner of Chang Sing Kai and Fu Yue Roads.

Blaze Is Spectacular

From the roof garden of the Industrial Bazaar the fire was seen by several foreigners. From the point of vantage, which dominates the entire Chinese City, the damage done by the fire could be realised. Roof after roof fell and as the tiles crashed to the ground, the flames leaped into the air.

Fire walls eventually stopped the blaze which probably would have swept the entire city had not the walls been of brick and concrete and the roofs of tile. Water had little effect and it was not until roofs and walls crumbled and all wooden construction practically burned that the numerous lines of hose run through alleyways and over adjoining roofs played any part in stopping the fire.

Fire At Pootung

A godown in Pootung, situated opposite the Baptist College, containing about 900 cases of gasolene, was destroyed yesterday. The A. P. C. launch Petroleum, which is fitted with a pump, stood by with a line of hose in case of any unforseen eventualities, but the gasolene burned itself out. There was no particular danger, as the godown was practically detached from the other buildings and there was little chance of the burning liquid flowing into the river.

A large number of large drums of gasolene was in the field nearby. They were not touched. The fire float turned out but its ser-

Hostilities Against Him Opened By Ukrainians, It Is Reported

(Reuter's Service)

Berlin, October 11.—According to a Libau telegram to the Lokal Anzeiger after severe fighting in the marshes before Riga Colonel Bermondt's forces yesterday morning captured the suburbs of Riga and this morning captured Thorensberg by assault, and occupied the Dvina bridge.

London, Oct. 11.—The Daily Mail publishes a telegram from Helsingfors dated October 9 stating that Colonel Bermodt's advance-guard of Germans and Russians occupied Riga that morning.

The extent of the fighting and the composition of the troops are unknown, but it is believed that the assailants numbered ten thousand.

Lettish Report Received

London, Oct. 10.—A Lettish official communique stated that the Germans and Russians are attacking in the direction of Riga on a front of thirty kilometers between Stolai and the coast, and that they have occupied Schlock. German armored cars and aeroplanes were used, an attempt being made to bomb Riga. The attack was generally repulsed with sanguinary losses, two German companies being cut up by machine guns. Fighting continues."

Another account declares that the enemy attacked repeatedly all night long in overwhelming numbers but were not successful.

A state of siege has been proclaimed at Riga where the British and French warships have cleared their decks for action.

Report Of Attack

London, October 10.—The Daily Chronicle publishes a telegram from Riga dated October 8, stating that a German force of twenty thousand has attacked the Letts on a ten mile front a few miles outside Riga.

Preliminary Engagements

London, Oct. 10.—Reuter's Agency learns that there is no definite news of the reported advance of General von der Goltz's troops on Riga but skirmishing is known to have occurred between the Lettish and German Russian detachments.

There are indications that the Germans intend to advance through Latvia to the Bolshevist front with a view of co-operating with the White Russian Armies, but the Letts and Esthonians will offer the most determined opposition.

General Laidtaner, the Esthonian Generalissimo has however declared that the situation is very serious and that the Lettish troops are not sufficiently organised and are unable to resist the more numerous and better equipped troops of General von der Goltz and Colonel Bermodt, and that consequently he has asked the Esthonians for help.

The latest aggression of the troops of Generals von der Goltz and Bermodt is regarded as the first sign of an imperialistic German offensive to the east that the cards of the German reactionaries are now upon the table.

Letts Ask Aid

Paris, Oct. 9—The Government of Lettland has telegraphed to the Peace Conference saying that the German troops in Courland have done their utmost to prevent the Letts from fighting the Bolsheviki and that when the Letts recently began a fresh offensive and had freed a considerable area, the Germans attacked them in the rear on October 8.

The Lettish government begs the Allies to take immediate and decisive measures to force Germany to conform to the peace treaty, which she has thus violated, and concludes by declaring that the alliance formed between Germany and Germanophile Russia threatens not merely the independence of Lettland but the peace of the whole world. The Lett sh government declares that it will defend the independence of Lettland to the last drop of blood.

War On Denikin

Copenhagen, October 9.—The Ukrainian press bureau reports that the Ukrainian Government has declared war on General Denikin, that heavy fighting is proceeding and that General Denikin's advance westward has been held up. The press bureau alleges that it was General Denikin who first attacked the Ukrainians.

London, Oct. 9.—The Times' Berlin correspondent telegraphs a newspaper report that a "West Russian" government has been formed for the purpose of combating Bolshevism by a strong army alliance between Admiral Kolchak and General Denikin.

Denikin Still Advancing

London, October 9.—General Denikin continues to advance in the Kursk-Voronezh area and he is now 220 miles from Moscow. The Bolsheviks have been largely reinforced on this front. The Bolshevik withdrawal continues on the whole East Russian front.

The situation in Russia is now considerably less favorable for the Bolsheviki than at the beginning of the summer. Evidently the volunteer army is more and more enlisting the support of the Russians and has become a most serious danger for the Bolsheviki whose forces appear to be insufficient to deal successfully with the double offensive from the South and East; but Admiral Kolchak is still far from the heart of Russia and if the Bolsheviki give up territory east of the Urals and make peace with the Baltic States they could probably considerably reinforce their southern front.

Executions In Petrograd

Stockholm, October 9.—According to advices from Petrograd 73 alleged anti-Bolshevik "conspirators" have been executed in Moscow and Kronstadt, including Princes Obolenski and Andronikoff, several generals and professors and a number of women. It was asserted that the "conspirators" were connected with General Denikin.

Helsingfors, October 9.—Tchitcherin the Bolshevik Commissary for Foreign Affairs has agreed to hold a peace discussion with the Baltic States at Dorpat, and he suggests that negotiations should begin on October 12.

Helsingfors, October 9.—A communique issued by the Northwest Russian army headquarters says: We have defeated five Bolshevik regiments in the Pskoff region taking 500 prisoners.

OMSK RECEIVES REPORT OF MOSCOW EXECUTIONS

Anger Of Bolshevists Turned Against Co-Operative Bodies Due To Food Shortage

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Harbin, October 11.—According to a telegram from Omsk, the Information Bureau at Siberian Headquarters learns that 19 representatives of co-operative societies have been shot by the Bolsheviki at Moscow.

It is understood that this persecution of the co-operative societies is due to the fact that their influence has recently increased owing to the gravity of the food situation and the failure of the Bolshevist authorities to improve matters.

A fugitive who recently escaped from Soviet Russia confirms all reports concerning the alarming food situation and the horrors of Bolshevist rule.

This informant states that a strong pro-Kolchak propaganda is being carried on among the workmen at Moscow, the majority of whom voted in favor of his support at a secret meeting held in Moscow at the end of July.

The Japanese General Oyi, commanding the Allied troops at Vladivostok has arrived at Harbin.

Report Is Issued

Harbin, October 12.—The following official report has been received from Vladivostok: "Our reconnoitring patrols in the Habarovsk district discovered a strong Bolshevik detachment moving westward, and escorting a wounded officer who had been taken prisoner. When the Government troops surrounded the Bolsheviki, the officer had already been killed."

Harbin, October 12.—According to an intercepted wireless message, the Bolsheviki are purposely circulating the rumor amongst the population of Soviet Russia that all the region between Krasnoyarsk and Chita is in the hands of the Reds, who are operating in the rear of Admiral Kolchak.

The same message shows that the commissaries are issuing endless appeals to the population calling upon them to join against General Denikin, who is called the enemy of the proletariat, and General Mamontoff, whose raids are threatening the Bolsheviki with calamity.

Reds Are Repulsed

Omsk, October 9.—The following communique has been issued here by general headquarters:

In the region of Tobolsk the Reds have been repulsed towards the estuary of the Tavda. In the direction of Yalutorovsk our troops are now 25 versts to the east of the town of Yalutorovsk. In the direction of Kargan and Zverinogolovskia our troops occupy the eastern bank of the Tobol.

In the direction of Kustanai we are 40 versts from the town. In the direction of Orenburg fighting is taking place five versts from Orenburg. In the direction of Uralsk we are advancing towards the town and are now 10 versts from it.

A Bolshevist wireless message states that workmen from various factories and works in Moscow, in order to find out the opinion of the majority on the Soviet rule, secretly had recourse to ballot. The majority pronounced themselves against the Soviet Government and in favor of support of Admiral Kolchak.

The total amount of contributions for the needs of the army, made by various cooperative unions, amounts to approximately 200 million roubles.

Admiral Kolchak has left for Tobolsk, which has recently been liberated from the Bolsheviki.

Admiral Kolchak has appointed General Khangine Minister of War.

The Red armies in their retreat are carrying off all the male population between the ages of 16 and 50, as well as all cattle, while in the region which they occupy, the Bolsheviki bitterly persecute the families of men serving in the Siberian armies. Attacks have recently been made on Bolshevik transports by volunteer detachments which have appeared in the rear of the Red armies. In the district of Shadrinsk, volunteer detachments composed exclusively of peasants, make attacks on Red troops.

Text Of Alleged Treaty Of Japan And Germany Is Received In Peking

Pact Said To Have Been Concluded Before End Of War Planned For Ultimate Triple Alliance With Russia

(From Our Own Corresponuent)

Peking, October 10.—Your correspondent is in receipt of the text of the alleged treaty between Japan and Germany, which was published in full in a semi-official journal in Zurich, Switzerland, on September 19 and subsequently telegraphed out to the Peking Government by one of its representatives. This treaty, which consists of nine articles, is said to have been negotiated at Stockholm in May, 1918, and finally signed by both parties at the Hague on October 2 of the same year. An English rendering of the document as cabled out to Peking in the Chinese language follows:

The two high contracting parties undertake to assist Russia in putting down her internal troubles and to maintain her position as a Great Power.

Japan shall help Germany and Russia to secure natural passages through Central Asia and Persia. The details of this assistance shall be worked out in a separate treaty to be concluded by the two high contracting parties at a later date.

Aid For Germany

The high contracting parties agree to determine upon their respective spheres of influence throughout the world in order to establish a check against possible aggression on the part of Great Britain.

Japan pledges her indirect assistance to Germany and Russia at the Peace Conference by which the world war is to be concluded.

If either of the high contracting parties enters into negotiations with a third Power for a treaty involving the political or financial status of Outer Mongolia, the other party agrees to give it due support with a view to the successful conclusion of the negotiations.

Germany and Japan agree to conclude, at a later date, secret treaties covering joint military and naval measures as a means of defense in the event of an attack against either or both of them by Great Britain and/or America. The terms of these treaties shall be worked out by the plenipotentiaries of the two high contracting parties after the conclusion of the Treaty of Peace in Europe.

This treaty provides only for an outline of the foreign policy of Germany, Japan and Russia. Further treaties, setting forth this policy in detail, are to be negotiated after the reconstruction of Russia.

Period Five Years

This treaty is to be operative for a period of five years from the date of the re-establishment of the Russian Government. The fourth article of this treaty shall, however, become effective from the date on which the treaty is signed. Six months before the expiration of the terms of this treaty either of the two high contracting parties may ask the other party to concur in its renewal.

The present treaty shall be ratified by the two Governments at the earliest date possible. A German and a French version of the treaty shall be prepared; and ratifications of these versions shall be exchanged at Stockholm.

The above treaty, as published in Switzerland last month, has been denied officially by the Japanese peace delegates at Paris, who state that Japan never entered into a treaty of any kind with Germany during the course of the great war. A treaty of a similar nature, purported to have been negotiated between Germany and Japan, was discovered in the Bolshevik archives in Russia last Winter and later brought down to China and published in the local press. This treaty, like that recently published in Switzerland, was officially denied by the Japanese Government.

BRITISH TRADE OUTLOOK DISCUSSED BY GEDDES

Competition Of America, Japan And Germany Not To Be Feared, He Says

(Reuter's Service)

London, October 10.—Sir Auckland Geddes, President of the Board of Trade in a speech at the city on the outlook of British trade, referred to the great fear which had been expressed that British traders were likely to be seriously affected by Germany, Japan and America.

He said that careful investigations showed that it would perhaps be many years before Germany would again rank among the great manufacturing nations of the world. She lacked raw materials and her workmen were hoplessly dispirited and were not working.

Referring to the representations of a recent deputation of toy manufacturers, he said that only £7 worth of German toys had entered the country since the armistice and the Board of Trade had imported those in order to show British toymen what Germany was not able to do. The fear of German competition, said Sir Auckland Geddes, was a shadow.

Referring to Japanese competition he drew attention to the fact that the wages of skilled workmen which had formerly been counted in pennies daily were now six shillings, while the cost of their staple food rice had more than quadrupled. Japanese workmen, he said, were nothing like so skilful as British.

Another great bugbear was American competition. America was not well placed for world trade. She also had her own troubles and exchange also hindered American exports. He was convinced that America would not be able to drive British trade from the markets of the world. If the nation made up its mind to work together and to serve the greater interests of British export trade, no nation was better situated than Great Britain to supply the world's shortage of goods.

Sir Auckland Geddes said that he sympathised with the workers' efforts to obtain a higher standard of life but he urged that greater production must accompany such efforts, and he denounced as treachery the action of manufacturers who were guilty of limiting output in order to keep up prices.

Stormy Debate Held In German Assembly

Charges Voiced Organisations Of Various Kinds Have Been Receiving Arms

(Reuter's Service)

Berlin, October 11.—There were stormy scenes in the National Assembly yesterday when the Independent Socialist Herr Hencke condemned the suppression of Independent Socialist newspapers and made the startling allegation that students' societies, and ex-soldiers' societies, rifle clubs, and farmers' societies were receiving arms in large quantities, which was a violation of the peace treaty.

There were indignant shouts of "You are hounding the Entente soldiery against Germany."

Herr Hencke retorted that he was speaking the truth. The Nationalist deputy Herr Heintz admitted that his party was striving to establish a monarchy. The Minister, Dr. David, reminded the House that the monarchy had plunged Germany into the deepest misery.

Most of the materials used are in connection with the work of the China Bureau of Public Information. Works of permanent value like researches in Chinese life will be published later in book form.

The instruction is being carried out under the direction of Mr. George Sokolski, manager of the bureau. It is understood that a similar class will be soon started in Futan College under Mr. Sokolshi.

OFFICIAL VIENNA EDICT ORDERS FOREIGNERS OUT

Women Of City Doing Their Best To Increase Population, As Birth Records Show

(American Press Wireless)

Vienna, October 7.—All foreigners are leaving the city of Vienna under official edict. Eight thousand persons have already departed for East Galicia and arrangements are being made, it is understood, to increase the number of outgoing trains thereby expediting the exodus.

While the population of the city is being thus reduced, vital statistics show that the native women are doing their best to increase it, recent figures showing 800 more births in September of last year and 700 less deaths.

A despatch of recent date from Budapest reports that Friederich has asked the Grand Master of the Free Masons of that district to strike his name from the roll of the society because some of the members of the order have supported the communist government and he does not wish to be associated with them.

Reports have been published in the city to the effect that the Rumanian forces in their evacuation of Western Hungary have carried off as loot more than 1,400 carloads of machinery.

FLOODS IN SPAIN

It was too late to pull up but he put on full steam and dashed across the quivering bridge which fell into a raging torrent below just when the last coach had reached the other side.

COMMITTEE TO DRAFT NEW IRISH PROPOSALS

Another Plan Of Settlement Will Be Presented In Next Few Months

(Reuter's Service)

London, Oct. 11.—The Daily Express states that a Cabinet Committee to draft a new Irish settlement scheme has been appointed with Mr. Walter Long as chairman. The committee includes Mr. Edward Shortt, Sir Auckland Geddes, Lord Birkenhead, Mr. Ian Macpherson, Lord French and Mr. Worthington Evans.

The Lobby correspondent of the Daily News points out that the committee has scarcely begun work and that therefore the detailed schemes already canvassed have not been drafted by the Committee.

Turkey, whose ratification of the Peace Treaty technically ends the war, is not likely to ratify before 1920 and therefore the Government will have several months in which to produce an Irish settlement plan for amending the Home Rule Act which will otherwise automatically come into force with the end of the war.

Treaty Ratification Urged By Bourgeois

(Reuter's Service)

Paris, October 11.—M. Leon Bourgeois, author of the French draft for the League of Nations, in a special report advises ratification of the peace treaty without delay. He points out, however, that the treaty is open to criticism on three important heads, viz., the operation of the League of Nations, the disarmament of Germany and the financial compensation secured by France.

Dearth Of Babies Menaces Race, Says Sir Rider Haggard

Writer Advocates Subsidies For Mothers As Means To Combat Race Suicide

(Reuter's Service)

London, October 11.—Sir Rider Haggard, giving evidence before the National Birthrate Commission, dwelt on the dangers of artificially keeping down births which is now widespread in every western nation except perhaps Russia and Germany.

He expressed the opinion that unless a startling change happened the western races within the next two centuries would be submerged beneath a great new influx from the teeming myriads of the east.

He doubted the effectiveness of appealing to the conscience of the Empire to stop this race suicide, but he thought that the State might stamp out diseases tending to sterilise the race and also subsidise motherhood, and as a desperate ultimate resort the State might directly or indirectly bring up all children, even holding out a kind hand to those not born in wedlock.

PORTUGUESE PRESIDENT TAKES OATH OF OFFICE

Era Of Political Harmony Is Forecasted With de Almeida As Chief Executive

(From Our Own Correspondent)

Peking, Oct. 9.—The following telegram from Lisbon to the Portuguese Legation, Peking, was made public today:

"Lisbon, Oct. 7.—Monsieur Antonio Jose de Almeida, the newly elected President of the Portuguese Republic, today took his oath before the Congress. The Diplomatic Body was present. Great enthusiasm prevailed inside and outside the Parliament. A reception was given by the President at the Palace of Belem to all the members of the Diplomatic body, a great number of civil and military officials, commercial and industrial organisations, and private individuals. Great enthusiasm prevails in the streets and throughout the country."

President de Almeida is a talented and brilliant orator and leader of one of the Parliamentary parties. He is also the most conspicuous of Portuguese writers, his articles in his daily paper, Republica, being the most masterful of the Republican press. It seems that a period of political calmness without party rivalries is to be inaugurated in Portugal, as the President was elected by the vote of his former rival in the leadership of the Republican party, Monsieur Alfonso Costa. Monsieur Costa is at this moment the Chief Delegate of Portugal at the Peace Conference.

During the first year of the Portuguese Republic, in the conflicts that always come with the changing of institutions, Monsieur de Almeida performed a great part, being considered safe by the moderate element, and respected and admired even by the Monarchical dissentients.

SITUATION IN TURKEY SAID TO BE SERIOUS

New Complicated Problem For Allies Reported To Be Developing

(Reuter's Service)

Constantinople, October 9.—The situation in Turkey is becoming dangerously complicated and the Allies may soon be confronted with another troublesome problem. The real object of the Nationalist movement headed by Mustapha Kemal Pasha, the spread of which led to the fall of Damad Ferid Pasha's Cabinet and the formation of a pro-Nationalist Ministry, is to uphold the integrity of the Turkish Empire.

The leaders of the movement oppose a European mandate for Turkey. Apparently they would accept a mild form of American Mandate. In view of the situation, the Allies must take timely measures, as there is good reason to believe that if the peace terms clash with the Nationalist program the Turkish Government may be compelled to refuse to sign the Peace Treaty.

London, Oct. 10.—Messrs. Montagu's silver report states:

HAD A HARD TIME GETTING HER TEETH

Until Baby's Own Tablets Were Tried—Then Began Improving At Once.

The reason why Mrs. David Lee's physician prescribed Baby's Own Tablets for her child was because he knew them to be perfectly harmless; they are sold under a guarantee, backed by a Government Analyst's certificate, that they contain absolutely no opiate or narcotic and can be given with perfect safety even to the youngest infant.

Says Mrs. Lee, who resides at Lindsay, Ontario, Canada:—"My little girl had a hard time getting her teeth. She was quite feverish, her tongue was coated, her breath offensive and she vomited curdled milk. On the advice of our doctor I gave her Baby's Own Tablets and she began improving at once. She had not slept well at nights for three months, and I was almost worn out caring for her. Nothing did her any good until I gave her the Tablets. Now her food digests properly, her breath is sweet, her tongue clean and she is quiet and good. I can strongly recommend the Tablets to other mothers as they did my baby good when nothing else did."

Baby's Own Tablets, the Canadian children's remedy, are recommended in cases of simple fever, colic, constipation, indigestion, diarrhoea. They make teething easy, promote healthy appetite, restful sleep and regular development, and are a remedy for worms. Sold by chemists, or sent post free at 60 cents the vial by the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., 96 Szechuen Road, Shanghai.

Pond's Vanishing Cream

is based on one of the most valuable skin-softening substances ever discovered, a substance whose affinity for the skin is so great that the moment it is applied it "Vanishes" and never reappears, as do many other toilet preparations.

It is fragrant and refreshing, it imparts to the skin a delightful sensation of coolness and velvety smoothness.

A light touch of POND'S VANISHING CREAM before applying powder gives the complexion an exquisite texture and a soft velvety bloom which cannot be obtained with powder alone. It is the ideal finishing touch.

As a safeguard against the ill effects of sun, wind and weather, POND'S VANISHING CREAM is simply wonderful. It preserves the necessary skin pliancy, and in the case of sunburn, does much to prevent unsightly peeling.

We want you to know, not from what we say, but from actual experience, how good POND'S VANISHING CREAM is for your skin. You have read about it, heard about it; now we want you to use it.

FRENCH CHAMBER HEARS STARTLING DISCLOSURE

Plan Of Champagne Offensive Of 1917 Was Given To Enemy Before It Began

(Reuter's Service)

Paris, October 11.—The debate in the French Chamber today led to sensational revelations regarding the failure of the French offensive in Champagne in April, 1917. M. Painleve, who was then Minister of War, told the Chamber that the Germans discovered the French plans with the result that the offensive was smashed before reaching the Germans' second line. The French in ten days lost 34,000 killed and 30,000 wounded.

M. Briand, the ex-Premier, dramatically interrened in the debate declaring that on the authority of the British and French Governments General Nivelle took command of the French and British armies in January, 1917 and was entitled to give instructions to Sir Douglas Haig.

What then happened is wrapped in mystery, but a Paris paper publishes a letter purporting to have been written by M. Briand to Mr. Lloyd George complaining "of the tendency of Sir Douglas Haig to evade instructions," thus rendering unity of command impossible.

German Forces In Open Revolt

the coercive measures planned by the Allies will be carried out unless the orders of the Peace Conference are obeyed and furthermore that an Inter-Allied Commission will be sent to the Baltic Provinces to supervise the execution of the Allied measures.

Situation Is Grave

London, October 10.—The whole Russian situation is daily growing more serious and more complex. All that is publicly known is that the plan of co-operation through the Baltic Provinces and the so-called Northwest Russian Government has broken down owing, it is believed, to the refusal of General Denikin and Admiral Kolchak to guarantee the independence of these States because that would be incompatible with the "undivided Russia" for which they are fighting.

Therefore the Baltic Provinces are tentatively negotiating for peace with the Bolsheviki. But Germany's attitude is the crux of the position. She continues strenuously to deny that she is encouraging General von der Goltz, but the latter remains on the spot with 110,000 troops and undoubtedly is establishing relations with numerous Russians of the old regime who object to the independence of the Baltic Provinces and regard the overthrow of Bolshevism as merely a prelude to the restoration of the old Russia with their rights, privileges and property intact.

It is regarded as significant in this connection that General Denikin has a German General in charge of his cavalry.

The Times referring to the gravity of the issues involved points out that while the Bolshevist regime is undoubtedly doomed the point is what will succeed it, a Russia moulded by the ideals of Germany or by those of the Allies.

The Times warns the British Government that an unfriendly Russia would upset peace in the East, that moreover the Situation in Turkey is serious, and that Russia and Turkey command the backdoor to India. Hence Great Britain, says the Times, cannot ignore the growing gravity of the position.

Purpose Is Seen

London, Oct. 10.—The latest official news most strongly confirms the view that Germany is deliberately scheming to secure the controlling position of Russia by having German troops occupy Petrograd and then posing as saviors of the country.

The Russian General Miller and his troops in North Russia declined the chance to leave the country on board British warships for political reasons. A number of British desired to remain but in order to prevent misunderstanding all have evacuated. General Sir Henry Rawlinson sails tomorrow and the British evacuation of Murmansk will be completed in a few days.

London, October 9.—German designs in Russia are attracting attention as evidence increases that there is no intention on the part of the German troops to evacuate the Baltic Provinces.

London, October 9.—The Times, in a leading article, interprets German policy as taking the lead against the Bolsheviki in order to peg out a claim for the future gratitude of stable elements in Russia.

Lett Minister Speaks

Copenhagen, October 9.—According to advices from Riga, the Lett Foreign Minister addressing the National Council, said that there could be no question of concluding peace with the Soviet Republic in its present form but if the Soviet transferred the power to a more democratic government, after the example of Hungary, the question might be considered.

Haase Attack Significant

Berlin, October 8.—Medical examination shows that Herr Haase, the Socialist Deputy who was shot by a Viennese civilian outside the Reichstag was only slightly wounded and his recovery is expected within a week.

Owing to the attempt to shoot Herr Haase, the Reichstag adjourned after Herr Noske's speech.

The National Zeitung says that Herr Haase intended severely to criticise the German Government's Baltic policy and to make sensational revelations regarding Russian recruiting in Berlin, irrefutably proving by documentary evidence that two members of the new West Russian Government are staying in Berlin to direct propaganda and recruiting for a Russian counter revolution.

Shanghai Bowlers Win Two Matches At Kowloon Club

Defeat Cricket Club, 26-23, And Win From Bowls Club By 22-18 Score

After losing the first game to Hongkong, Shanghai lawn bowlers took two matches straight at Hongkong. On October 6, they won from the Kowloon Cricket Club lawn bowls section by a score of 26 to 23. It was a close game and at the twentieth head stood a tie.

Against the Kowloon Bowling Green Club, on October 8, Shanghai scored 22 to the Hongkong players' 18. From the 13th to the finish it was an exciting contest, and was declared by the spectators to have been the best game of the series both from the point of view of the play and the closeness of the score.

Recs Footballers Meet

The football members of the Shanghai Recreation Club met yesterday evening in the Club's pavilion. Mr. J. E. Lucas was in the chair, supported by Messrs. F. Jones, H. Veitch, H. S. Smyth and T. G. Main, hon. secretary.

Mr. Lucas, in his remarks, congratulated the club on again winning the Skottowe Cup last season and the good showing in the various other games played.

The meeting approved of the Club entering teams for both the first and second league. Mr. J. L. Wade was appointed to represent the Club at all Association meetings. The following gentlemen were elected: Mr. R. J. S. Brandt to be captain of the club for the ensuing season with Mr. W. T. Manley as vice-captain. The sub-committee formed to act in conjunction with the above-named three gentlemen was Messrs. E. J. Cooke and A. V. White.

A discussion took place on the damage done to the cricket pitch last season through football and it was therefore decided that the football ground will run from North to South and not East to West as in former years.

Grand Opera Tomorrow

The Russian Grand Opera season will open tomorrow night at the Lyceum Theater.

"Aida," which is one of the most impressive and beautiful operas ever sung, has been chosen for the first night performance. Some of Russia's best known and most popular operatic stars are in the company, and the ballet dancers, who are from the Petrograd Classical School, are noted for their grace and beauty.

The first five performances are as follows:

Wednesday, "Aida," Thursday, "Faust," Friday, "Carmen," Saturday Matinee, "Lakme," and Saturday Evening "Tosca." Two Sunday performances will be given at the Olympic Theater, "Faust" being sung at the matinee, and "Pique-Dame" in the evening.

Children Cry for Fletcher's

CASTORIA

Fletcher's Castoria is particularly a preparation for Infants and Children made agreeable to the taste, acceptable to the stomach and pleasant in its action. It has been in use for over thirty years and has always been one of the most highly esteemed of all cathartic preparations. It has one great advantage over other preparations of its kind in that while it opens the organs readily and completely, it does not have a tendency to produce subsequent constipation so much to be dreaded.

It was only after years of research in the fields of herbs and roots for a combination of purely vegetable matter that would have all the virtues of Castor Oil, without its disagreeable, nauseating properties, especially when used for infants or children, that the formula used in Fletcher's Castoria was found, and which for over 30 years has proven its worth. Try it.

Save the Babies.

Infantry mortality is something frightful. We can hardly realise that of all the children born in civilised countries, twenty-two per cent., or nearly one quarter die before they reach one year, thirty-seven per cent., or more than one-third, before they are five, and one half before they are fifteen! We do not hesitate to say that a timely use of Castoria would save many of these precious lives. Neither do we hesitate to say that many of these infantile deaths are occasioned by the use of narcotic preparations. Drops, tinctures and soothing syrups sold for children's complaints contain more or less opium or morphine. They are, in considerable quantities, deadly poisons. In any quantity, they stupefy, retard circulation and lead to congestion, sickness, death. To avoid any possibility of giving your child opiates, or narcotics of any kind, keep Fletcher's Castoria in the house, and Save the Babies.

The Children's Comfort—The Mother's Friend.

Banking Service with AMERICA —direct and personal

EXPORTERS or importers now engaged in, or thinking of, trade with America would do well to consider not only the special nature of our facilities, but also the personal interest we take in every one of our customers' transactions.

First of all, we offer direct banking service—without intermediary dealings, or unnecessary delays.

Equally important is our personal service. Every transaction is followed through, both here and in America, by our own representatives with a personal interest, the value of which is evident in the service rendered.

May we talk with you about America?

IMPARTIAL & PROGRESSIVE

SHANGHAI, OCTOBER 14, 1919

The Baltic Crisis

IT used to be the Balkan situation; now it is the Baltic situation. And the latter seems to be as full of dynamite as the former once was. In the light of recent developments, there can be no doubt as to what was, and what even now is, being attempted. It is evident that the Germans have counted upon public opinion in Allied countries eventually forcing the withdrawal of Allied troops from Russia, on the principle of non-interference; and that they also have counted on the eventual overthrow of Bolshevism in Russia and wanted to be in position to help in this overthrow. This accomplished, they would have established some claim against the succeeding government of Russia, would be on friendly terms with it and would be able possibly to form some sort of coalition with it. They would be allies in the sense of having joined forces with the anti-Bolshevists to overthrow Bolshevism. That was the situation they sought and are seeking to create.

The position now is that the German troops and their commanders, formerly so docile, are defying the orders of their government, which in response to pressure by the Supreme Council at Paris, has been commanding them to evacuate the Baltic provinces. The other day we had a dispatch to the effect that the note of the German Government regarding evacuation of this region had been considered unsatisfactory by the Supreme Council, which "had instructed Marshal Foch to send a new Note agreeing to Germany's request for the appointment of an Allied-German Commission, to be conditional on the German Government not being free from responsibility and undertaking to withhold pay and food from occupying troops after a certain date, and also advising her that the Allies would not revoke their coercive measures before compliance."

Yesterday's dispatches disclose a still more serious crisis. General Vassilkovsky, "who is a noted opponent of Germany," sends a warning to General Foch "that General von der Goltz's troops are beginning a careful movement against Lettland and will shortly begin an offensive in the direction of Pskoff, overrun Esthonia and march on Petrograd for the purpose of installing a German monarchical regime.

Further, we have the news that Herr Haase, the Socialist Deputy was shot as he was entering the Reichstag because he "intended severely to criticise the German Government's Baltic policy and to make sensational revelations regarding Russian recruiting in Berlin, irrefutably proving by documentary evidence that two members of the new West Russian Government are staying in Berlin to direct propaganda and recruiting for a Russian counter-revolution."

Next, The Daily Chronicle of London publishes a dispatch stating that "a German force of 20,000 men has attacked the Letts on a ten-mile front near Riga."

Following this, Bischow, commanding the so-called "Iron Division" at Mitau, defies Berlin and proclaims his intention to join the Russians "to help them free their homeland from the Bolshevik scourge to humanity," and Berlin meets this by announcing that Bischof will be courtmartialed for insubordination.

All this news, together with the fact that the British Government, more than a month ago, sent a big fleet into the Baltic, makes this crisis both unique and perilous. The Germans at first claimed that their course was based upon their determination to prevent Bolshevism spreading into Germany. But this was swept aside by the Supreme Council, which then forced the Germans to order their troops out of the Baltic region, an order which the troops themselves declined to obey, putting themselves by that action in a somewhat Bolshevist attitude toward their own government.

The whole incident would be more enigmatic than it is were it not for the persistance of the report that Germany, Russia and Japan have completed a secret treaty. The latest story to this effect, which has, by the way, been denied by the Japanese Government, has now reached Peking in the form of a cablegram from one of the Chinese officials in Europe. According to the report this treaty was negotiated in May and was signed in Oct., of last year—only a month or so before the Germans were forced to acknowledge defeat. The point is that the first article in this very interesting document reads as follows:

The Governments of Germany and Japan shall assist Russia in settling her internal dispute and restore peace and order to the country."

And the last one is: As soon as Russia is properly reconstructed, Germany, Russia and Japan shall jointly proclaim their diplomatic policy.

Do You Hear The Coming Storms?

"We ask our readers to look at their morning papers and see what kind of storm is rising in the world, and ask themselves what are they doing to preserve themselves and their country when they will be in the sphere of the cyclone, as they inevitably will be."

—THE IRISH HOMESTEAD, edited by G. W. Russell ("Æ").

Mr. G. W. Russell ("Æ"), the editor of the Irish Homestead, thus sets out a forecast of the coming industrial storm, and shows how the co-operative principle may become a barrier against economic disaster.

"A malady which seems incurable has settled upon our rulers," he says. "It is the disease of milliomania. The patient cannot think in less than thousands of millions, and every paroxysm can only be relieved by the spending of more hundreds or thousands of millions. Seven months after the war which was to end war the expenses of government are four millions daily. We are told that any alternative Government would be ruinous, that a labor administration would be the most extravagant in the world. We have our doubts.

"Our rulers at present are the nominees of millionaires, the people who are accustomed to think in millions. Labor is accustomed to think in terms of thirty shillings or two pounds a week. It takes some time for a class which has a long training in being careful in the expenditure of shillings to get to the reckless manipulation of thousands of millions. We believe on psychological grounds that one must be born to think of millions to be susceptible to the acutest spasms of the disease of milliomania.

Coming Social Upheaval

"We are coming gradually to believe that within the next decade there will be social upheavals as sensational as anything recorded in history, and that we must anticipate and prepare for them in Ireland. Though Ireland itself will not be a primary center where these forces will begin their disruptive work it cannot help being affected any more than a man whose neighbor sets fire to his house can escape danger from the conflagration. It is desirable that our economic organisation should be perfected; that democratic control should be established as rapidly as possible over the production and distribution of the necessaries of life. This, at all times desirable, becomes more urgently necessary when we see the way Europe is going and Great Britain along with it.

Irish Co-operation

"We are fortunate in this, that the co-operative idea is beginning to be understood in Ireland. We have considerable foundations to build on, but much more must be done if Ireland is to emerge from this world turmoil as a country where it will be possible to live and enjoy life. The democracies in Europe are out to smash the present social order, which has brought upon them unendurable sufferings, war and famine. Whether the democracy will be able to replace the existing social order by a better one nobody can say with certainty. A new militarism and despotism may emerge bloodily from the turmoil standing for the old order. We may have a socialistic Europe, or it is quite possible we may have neither one nor the other, but a general anarchy and the decay through constant disorder of European civilisation.

Paralysed by the Storm

"The statesmen of Europe seem incapable of finding a way out. They are paralysed by the storm they have set in motion. If any country in Europe is to be saved, it must be by the action of the people themselves, and if Ireland is to escape from the general conflagration it can only be by the concentration of the Irish people upon their own economic problems. We must not be supposed to hold the view that co-operation will settle every Irish problem. The political problem is yet unsolved. With that we cannot deal. But we do see clearly that there are certain problems which can, in our opinion, only be solved by the extension of co-operative control over production, purchase, and distribution.

A Lesson from Russia

"There are lessons to be learned from Russia, which was the first country to be affected by the revolutionary impulse. What survived of the old order? Nothing but the co-operative societies. The people in time of revolt do not attack their own organisations, and we quoted some weeks ago testimony from the bulletin of political and economic intelligence issued by the War Office to the effect that the one thing which had gathered strength in Russia during the revolution was the co-operative movement and that it would survive the revolution and endure through any new system of government which might be set up. In South Africa a Commission appointed by the Union Government to inquire into the causes of unrest there advocated the widest extension of co-operation in distribution, purchase, and manufacture.

Co-operation In Canada

"We find that the farmers in Canada are formulating a national policy for that Dominion. It has been adopted by the Canadian Council of Agriculture and endorsed by the organised farmers of Ontario, Manitoba, Alberta, and Saskatchewan, and one of its most important features is explained as the 'Extension of co-operative agencies in agriculture to cover the whole field of marketing, including arrangements with consumers' societies for the supplying of foodstuffs at the lowest rates and with the minimum of middleman handling.'

"The organised farmers in Canada recognise as their natural allies the organised co-operators in the cities and wish to deal with them directly. They see quite clearly that agriculture cannot isolate itself from the nation or form a monopoly without regard to other national interests. In fact they formulate for these farmers, a national policy, and we wish we had space to explain it at length in relation to railways, shipping tariffs, manufactures, labor, etc. They see that unless they step out of the agricultural isolation and become citizens they will have in Canada the revolutionary disturbance which is so certain in Europe, and they became citizens of Canada as well as Canadian farmers and advanced to meet the difficulties.

A Warning to Ireland

"We advise Irish farmers, for their own sakes as well as for the sake of their country, to try to organise a national economic policy. They are the most powerful class numerically, and even economically, and we hope that the representatives of co-operative associations and of farmers' unions will draw together in council, as the organised Canadian farmers have done, and try to work out a national economical economic policy, and show that they can think for the nation as well as for themselves.

"The first item in an Irish policy should be to get a democratic control over agricultural production and distribution of foodstuffs. Co-operative stores should be started everywhere, in town as well as country, and the closest relations established between the urban and rural co-operators. We beg of farmers to reflect how powerless they would be if the proletarian agitation over Europe found our urban workers discontented and ready to accept any revolutionary propaganda without regard to capacity or experience. How much better to anticipate the revolution by an orderly evolution in society."

Japanese Editors In The Saddle And At Sea

Comments of Japanese editors on the international situation are of special interest at the moment, although they are never without interest. They have their way of looking at things, and that's all there is about it. For instance, the latest outbursts, as translated by The Japan Advertiser:

Naval Expansion Needed

The Yamato urges the necessity of reinforcing the naval forces, and says that "the utterance of insults on Japan by Americans is due to their contempt of our naval strength."

The naval authorities some time ago drafted a program to extend the navy into a fleet with eight battleships and eight battle-cruisers as its nucleus, contines the Yamato. This program is to be accomplished by 1923, but it is not known whether the financial authorities will agree to the necessary expenditure. Though the War Profits Tax is to be abolished from next year, various taxes can be imposed on wealthy men. It is to be hoped that the people will support the naval authorities. Even when the program is completed, the country's whole fleet is smaller than the American Pacific squadron, but the Japanese can make up the deficit by spirit and patriotism.

Japanophobia In America

With the best interest of Japanese-American friendship at heart, says the Osaka Mainichi, the recent evidence given before the House Committee by Major General Andrew and by Mr. Miller Freeman, the immigration official at Seattle, is most deplorable, while the remarks made by Mr. McCumber in an interview with a Mainichi representative are most satisfactory.

The Mainichi proceeds to review the statement by Major General Andrew, and says that when he made it he was apparently suffering from a hallucination due to Japanophobia which has lately overtaken some British and American military experts.

Mr. Freeman said, continues the Mainichi, that Japan was constantly violating the Gentlemen's Agreement and that if the present state of things continued, the whole of America would be occupied by Japanese in 100 years. It is difficult to understand what was the real motive of the immigration official in urging a restriction of the entry of the Japanese into America. Japan, which "has never broken her word," as the New York Times put it, is faithfully observing the Gentlemen's Agreement, and proof of this is found in the fact that it is extremely difficult to obtain passports in this country. The report of Mr. Freeman was apparently based on statistics which included Japanese tourists, and his remarks are not worth serious attention. We cannot, however, lightly pass the statement of the immigration official when it is remembered that his remarks may be exploited by Mr. Phelan and his friends who did not hesitate to declare that "it is America's national policy to exclude the Japanese."

The Mainichi goes on to express a profound appreciation of the remarks made by Mr. McCumber with regard to Japan and the Shantung question. We tender our heartfelt respects, says the paper, to Mr. McCumber as a really good friend of Japan, He added, however, continues the Mainichi, that if Japan failed to fulfil her pledge regarding Shantung, she would be the first country to break her word to the League of Nations. It seems that Mr. McCumber has some misgivings, but if so, his apprehension is unnecessary. Do the declarations made by Baron Makino and Viscount Uchida leave any room for doubting Japan's sincerity? We hope, concludes the Mainichi, that Mr. McCumber will rely on Japan which "has never broken her word" and carry on his campaign.

The Disease Of Fear

When America declared war on Germany the year before last, says the Yorodzu, the Japanese in America wholeheartedly supported the American cause. Some 800 Japanese in Hawaii volunteered into the barracks, quite a number of Japanese in San Francisco and other places joined American troops. When the American Government raised the Liberty Loan, the Japanese residents in America, who numbered no less than 100,000, subscribed Y.3,000,000 in spite of the fact they are comparatively poor; the Japanese in San Francisco organised a lantern parade in support of the Liberty Loan campaign. In view of these unmistakable manifestations of Japanese friendship for America, her people apparently repented of their former anti-Japanese movements, which they then ascribed to German propaganda.

Since the opening of the Pe Conference, with a Japanese for racial equality before it, a Japanese movements have revi in America, and the sentiment been intensified by the despe actions of Koreans and Chin Neither the remarks of Mr. F man nor those of Mr. McCla are sane. In olden times Eu had Russophobia, and we find Japanophobia rampant on west coast of America. disease of fear is now develo into a form of insanity. any sane man say that if Ame is left open to the Japanese, will become a Japanese colon 100 years?

If such a thing had been in America in August or Septe ber of last year when pro-Japa ese sentiment was predomina in that country, the speaker would have been denounced as a German agent intent on alienating America from Japan. It is strange that no such charge is now raised against Mr. Freeman and Mr. McClatchy.

In our opinion, continues the Yorodzu, their utterances are calculated to disturb the peace of the Pacific, to injure the relations between Japan and America. We believe that there are many sensible men in America; why do they not restrain the fits of those Japanophobes?

America helped Japan in emerging from a state of seclusion sixty years ago when it was Japan's ruling sentiment to close the country against foreigners; America is trying to translate similar sentiment against Japan into fact. We take pity on America for her bigoted foolishness; we would like to awake her from her dream in order to repay the assistance which was given us 60 years ago; at least we ought to cure Japanophobia in America.

Race Equality And Peace

It seems, says the Tokio Asahi, that one of the reasons why Rumania is so strongly disaffected against the Allies is the fact that in the Peace Treaty with Austria, the Allies made Rumania bind herself with a pledge to protect the minor races in her territory. When the Japanese peace delegates urged the abolition of racial discrimination and asked for the insertion of a clause in the League of Nations covenant providing for a fair and just treatment of all races, the British and American delegaters rejected the claim on the plea that such a stipulation would involve interference with the domestic administration of the nations. The reason why Rumania was pleased at the failure of the race equality bill is that she has different races in her territory. But the League of Nations is now interfering with the racial question of Rumania!

This is not confined to Rumania. The Allies have provided for an equal treatment of all races in Poland, and a similar measure has also been taken with regard to Austria. This shows that the Allies' plea of interference in domestic administration, which was made against Japan's claim for the abolition of race discrimination, is untenable. The truth is that the first requisite of permanent peace is the equality of all races, whether in a country or between nations. The League of Nations is designed to preserve the permanent peace of the world; it is impossible for the League to avoid the racial question. Great Britain and America rejected Japan's claim for the abolition of racial discrimination to serve their own selfish interests; they now do not hesitate to interfere with the racial question of Rumania, Poland and Austria. What an inconsistency!

These circumstances make it clear that the rejection of the Japanese race bill at the Peace Conference was due to the selfish motives of two or three big countries. We hope that British and American statesmen will awake and repent it.

U.S. Navy Year Book

The U.S. Navy Year Book, publication of which was discontinued after America entered the war, reappears this week. It shows, among other things, that the United States ranks as second naval power of the world and that construction now under way will greatly reduce the difference in tonnage between the British and American navies. Great Britain stands first in completed ships, but the United States outranks all other nations in new construction. The value of our fighting navy as now constituted is about $531,000,000. Total number of ships of all tyyes, combatant and noncombatant, as recorded in the Year Book, is 778, the total tonnage being 1,795,481. When the ships of all types now under construction are completed the total number of ships in the navy will be 1,405 and the tonnage 3,042,975.

The Actor As Producer

(New York Times)

When members of the association of producing managers declared that they would "never produce another play" if the ac- [illegible] as co-operative production.

In the history of the drama, of which the Equity actors are still a part, co-operative production has a high, if brief, tradition. In the days when actors were vagabonds

That carried erst their fardels on their backs,

the enterprise was of the joint stock order, receipts being divided among the company according to a fixed scale. Under Elizabeth, the theaters of the Bankside were co-operatively owned and managed. Shakespeare, who was actor, author, and capitalist in one, owned a tenth share in the Globe. Authors who were neither actors nor capitalists were sometimes shareholders. John Marston owned a share in the Blackfriars, and Michael Drayton a share in the Whitefriars. When Hamlet. Prince of Denmark, turned playwright he was so pleased with himself that he aspired to own "a fellowship in a cry of players." On the Continent similar conditions obtained. An early print shows Moliere and his fellows dividing the receipts of a performance.

This primal custom, however, soon faded. Why it failed we shall never clearly know; but it may be assumed that, then as now, actors were mercurial people, whose demands ran high in times of good fortune, but whose hearts somehow chilled in times of adversity. In Shakespeare and Moliere, their fellows were fortunate in possessing leaders who were actors and playwrights among the best, business men of the utmost sanity and shrewdness —comrades, to boot, who were genial, sympathetic, and wise as few men have ever been. But in any time the supply of such competence is strictly limited. It was perhaps not unnatural that dramatic finances fell into the grip of the hard-headed person who owned the theater. Much the same fate befell "production" of the kind that is last of all artistic. The guilds of the Middle Ages gave way to private ownership and management. The nineteenth century tried to revive co-operative production; but the history of labor is strewn with the wreckage of workman-owned factories and mines. It would be interesting to know just what the actors' comrades of the American Federation of Labor think of this project of co-operative production.

Thus far, the prospect is distinctly favorable. Men of considerable means, long interested in the theater, have allied themselves with the Equity Association, and promise financial backing. The conduct of the strike has been so vigorous, and so clear a capacity for leadership has been shown, that it would not be strange if many theater owners throughout the land eventually agreed to "book" Equity productions. The decisive factor will doubtless be the inner structure of the association. When actors have succeeded as producers in the past it has been as individuals —Irving, Tree, and Willard in England; Mansfield and Sothern here. Authority has been as vigorously centralised as in the case of the most commercial manager. It is hard to see how the Equity Association can prosper without as clear a centralisation of power. The choice of plays may perhaps be delegated to a committee; but even here there will be trouble if the points of view of dramatic art and of popular appeal are not of equal influence with the point of view of the actor. Few things could be more fatal than plays chosen for the "parts" in them rather than for sound artistic values and power to move an audience. These are matters of which one man, if he is the right man, is generally a better judge than many. When a play is chosen, certainly, there should be an end to the possibility of divided counsels. The authority of the producer should be absolute.

Will the Equity Association be capable of thus delegating power? And if it is, will it be loyal to its chiefs, in adversity as in success? If it can maintain the spirit which has been developed in the strike, it will be, and the result will be most fortunate.

really rather hear kiddies playing round, with their laughter ringing clear in a joyous sound. It is sweeter than the notes of grand opera, boys with their million-dollar throats making costly noise. Other folks like uplift books, which are guaranteed to make angels out of crooks in a spurt of speed. When they want a bit of cheer, they read chapter one telling folks all out of gear how the trick is done. Yes, it's easy as can be; many like this route; but it makes no hit with me. I need kids about. Printed cheer is quite all right, so some folks attest. Though it may be out of sight, I like kids the best. They are living bits of song, breathing bits of hope. They can jolly me along when I want to mope. Other men may take their cheer any way they like, but I choose, all through the year, just a little tyke, and of all the cheer-up stuff scattered far and near, I am sure to have enough if the kids are here.

Scouting And Learning

It's Time For The Schools To Wake Up

By Dr. William A. M'Keever

(Professor in the University of Kansas and One of America's Foremost Educators.)

Few people as yet seem to realise the tremendous significance of the Boy Scout movement, as it is developing today.

A young, growing order of nearly a half million regular Boy Scouts.

More than a million new adult associate members.

Millions of dollars of new capital to back the work.

A head office regular force of 300 to direct the entire field.

A small army of able volunteer local leaders all working under one plan.

An increasing number of scout council executives equal in salary and influence to the superintendents of schools.

Consider the foregoing and its meaning and you will begin to understand the challenge which is confronting the public schools of America today as never before—a challenge to awaken, to make good, to do vital and stimulating things, to meet and satisfy the eternal call which comes up out of the heart of common boyhood.

Of the Boy Scouts, it may be said that practically every member is earnest, eager and abounding in enthusiasm for the work of the order. The school boy, on the other hand, too often goes limping off to the class room as if he had to be started with a kick.

The scout is loyal almost to a fault to the duties and traditions of his membership. He will fight for the cause if need be. But, as a mere schoolboy, this same young American is often full of the rebellious spirit and ready to join an insurgent movement.

For this one time I am not offering a cure but I am merely citing a disease. I am not outlining a program but am pointing a moral. To repeat, the school is still regarded by the boy as a dull grind, while scouting is regarded as a delightful privilege. Indeed, the contrast of these two institutions is so conspicuous in the mind of the ordinary boy privileged to view them side by side, that the situation is apt to become very embarrassing to the school officers.

Scouting is not to blame for this contrast. It happens to tap a deep vein of divine boy energy. The teachers and school officers are not to blame, but are merely victims. Society is at fault for permitting the old, hard, traditional grind of the schoolroom to remain, and it must suffer the penalty of its folly. Have you ever heard of a truant officer being sent to round up a boy who had become delinquent in his scout membership?

Finally, the charming scout movement, now spreading to all the cities of the country, will practically compel the school either to affiliate with it or to recast the course of study and discipline so as to conform more nearly to the enticing aspects of the scout order. The public school can and must have its abundant joys, its thrills for the common child. Let us make it so.

Little Bobbie's Pa

By William F. Kirk

I have thot of a little song for American school books sed Pa to Ma last nite. The naim of the song will be Mexico, Our Mexico.

I doant like that titel, sed Ma, it isent our Mexico and from what I have seen of them Mexicans I am glad it isent, sed Ma.

It ought to be ours, tho, sed Pa, at leest until we have traned them brunet babies so thay can run a decent layout, sed Pa. I am gitting tired of reeding about the way thay treet Americans. In all the yeers I was thare, sed Pa, they nevver dared to treet me that way.

You bet thay dident, sed Pa. I liked to look them Greesers in the two eyes, sed Pa, and back them off the bords. Thay backed, too.

I bet thay backed, sed Ma.

That is what thay done, sed Pa. I have been thinking sum of running down thare and seeing what I cud do, sed Pa., to straten things up.

You better wait a week or so, sed Ma, until you have fixed the garden. It needs yure cleer eye and yure strong arm as much as Mexico needs them, sed Ma.

I understand them folks, sed Pa. You have to know thare langwidge to git along with them, and then stay sumware ware that langwidge isent talked.

That is what you shud do, stay rite here, Ma sed. We understand you so well here, sed Ma. In fack, we understand you so well that we know you wuddent think of going ware all that trubbel is.

I wuddent be afrade of Mexicans if I had my air rifel, I sed to Pa.

That has been the whole trubbel, Bobbie, sed Pa. America has been shooting at Mexico with too many air rifels, hot air mostly, Pa sed. What we must do now is to step in thare like Dempsey, sed Pa, and keep going with both hands until the end of the mess.

You better weed the asparygas bed, tho, sed Ma, and leeve them problems to the statesmen of our glorus nashun.

Maye you are rite, sed Pa, you are often rite about sum things sumtimes, sed Pa.

I bet Pa cud maik them lissen, tho, if he cud talk Mexican as fast as he talks English.

'TRICKS OF THE TRADE'

An eminent journalist received a note from a professional interviewer requesting him to be the subject of a special "character sketch." The journalist replied, "I am sorry, but I must ask you to excuse me from acceding to your request. I am like the little boy at a school treat who when the Squire's wife came round to him and asked him if he would like some strawberry jam, promptly replied, "No, thank you, mam! I works at the place where they makes it.'"

KIDS

By Aline Michaelis

Birds and flowers are good enough; sunshine, too, is fine; but of all the cheer-up stuff, I'll take kids for mine. They're as sunny as the day, fresh as spring-time rain, and their voices at their play shame the bluebird's strain. Some folks say that music's best when the day is long; but I seldom find much rest in the master's song. Oh, of course it's grand, reaching to high Z, singing talk few understand on this side the sea. But I'd
